

DIGITAL LANGUAGE RESEARCH: 'COMPUTATION' MEETS 'INTERACTION'

AN EXPLORATIVE WORKSHOP

THURSDAY, 12 DECEMBER

- 10.00 Greetings & Introduction
-
- 10.30 Small stories research meets technography: The role of digital corpora and data mining in tracking
Alex Georgakopoulou & Anda Drasovean
(King's College London)
-
- 11.15 Integrating Discourse Perspectives and Computational Approaches
Holly Lopez Long (Indiana University)
-
- 13.30 What 300-dimensional Fridges can Tell Us about Language
Dirk Hovy (Bocconi University)
-
- 14.15 When I was in Paris last month... – Exploring a Corpus of Food Blogs
Melanie Andresen & Heike Zinsmeister
(Universität Hamburg)
-
- 15.30 A mixed methods approach to digital punctuation: Social indexicalities in frequencies and interactional practices
Florian Busch (Universität Hamburg)
-
- 16.15 Computational Approaches to Computer-Mediated Discourse Analysis: From Text to Graphics
Susan Herring (Indiana University)
– video conference
-

ORT: SENATSSITZUNGSSAAL (AS-SAAL)

Edmund-Siemers-Allee 1 (Hauptgebäude), 3. OG

WENIGE PLÄTZE, ANMELDUNG ERFORDERLICH:

Email: medienlinguistik.slm@uni-hamburg.de

FRIDAY, 13 DECEMBER

- 09.45 When the Minority Matters: Sentiment Analysis and Abusive Language Detection in Social Media with Imbalanced Data
Sandra Kuebler (Indiana University)
-
- 10.30 Toward learning representations of social meaning
Dong Nguyen (Utrecht University)
-
- 11.15 Investigating device effects on language: a mixed-methods approach with different-sized corpora
Jenia Yudytska & Jannis Androutsopoulos
(Universität Hamburg)
-
- 13.00 Four common misconceptions of linguistic variation in computational social science
Cornelius Puschmann (University of Bremen)
-
- 13.45 Concluding Discussion

UNTERSTÜTZUNG:

Abteilung Internationales, UHH

KOORDINATION:

Jannis Androutsopoulos
Heike Zinsmeister

Institut für Germanistik

Institut für Medien & Kommunikation

Fakultät für Geisteswissenschaften